BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1920

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

NEW EDUCATIONAL BILL

Just a word about certification and qualification of applicants for certificates. All questions will be prepared by the State Board of Examiners and sent to the county superintendents under the usual restrictions. The county superintendents will employ two assistants as heretofore, and together they shall conduct the examinations under the usual restrictions. The papers when answered are sent to this office for grading. Papers are to be designated by numbers so that those grading the papers here will have nothing to govern them except a number. The superintendents, of course, will send to this department the names of the applicants corresponding to the number. Examinations for white and colored teachers will be held on the same day, and not separately as heretofore. White teachers will be examined in one room and colored in another, but on the same day and on the same subject and using the same questions.

The fee to be paid by each applicant is $2.00. These fees shall be forwarded to the State Superintendent. The two county examiners shall be allowed $4.00 per day for their services. These fees shall be paid by the State Superintendent out of the fees that are sent to him by the county superintendents.

All certificates are of state rank. There shall be four grades of certificates issued to teachers of common schools:

- a. Teacher's Diploma
- b. State Teacher's Certificate
- c. Elementary Certificate of the first grade.
- d. Elementary Certificate of the second grade.

An elementary certificate of the first grade requires an average grade of 85 per cent upon all subjects in the common school course and upon the science and art of teaching including the State Course of Study for Elementary Schools. The lowest grade on any subject shall not be less than 70 per cent. This certificate is valid for four years.

An elementary certificate of the second grade shall be on the same subjects as an elementary certificate of the first grade and shall require an average of 75 per cent upon all subjects with not less than 60 per cent on any subject. This certificate shall be valid for two years and shall not be issued twice to the same person. Any holder of such certificates can teach in any county in the State.

The requirements for the State Certificate and the State Diploma remain heretofore. No teacher now holding a State Diploma, State Teacher's certificate or a county certificate is required to be re-examined until the expiration of such certificate.

After July 1, 1922 applicants for elementary certificates shall have had at least one year of high school work or its equivalent and in addition thereto, five weeks' study of professional subjects in a State Normal school or some other training school recognized by the State Board of Education.

After July 1, 1924, such applicants shall have had two years' high school work or its equivalent and in addition thereto, ten weeks' study of professional work in a Normal School, as aforesaid.

After July 1, 1926, such applicants shall have had four years' high school work or its equivalent and in addition thereto, twenty weeks' study in a Normal School, as aforesaid.

All examinations for county school diploma shall be conducted by the County Board of Examiners. This is made a county function entirely, subject only to the approval of the State Superintendent. You will notice that no radical changes are contemplated in the requirements for teachers within the next two years. The people have a right to expect a higher standard of qualification upon the payment of higher salaries. Teachers, I am sure, will cheerfully comply with the new requirements when they come. We must recognize that it is a tremendous task and that it will require time, patience and faith to reach even the limited goal that we have set for ourselves.

T. W. Minton and C. L. Banks, of the Hickory Mill, are proud of their two beautiful saddle horses which are three and four years old, of the Kentucky Rex Peavine Stock. They are half sisters of Hazel Dawn, which, after winning the highest honors at Louisville, was sold in New York for $4,500, and of Edna Mae, which sold for the same sum and was shipped to Cuba. Being colts they will put on some 300 lbs. in weight by the time they are fully developed.

FIRE

Fire broke out at the home of J. B. Campbell Thursday morning at about 9:30 o'clock, the shingle roof having presumably caught fire from a spark. Messrs. Campbell, Kinder, Vern Dunbar, Dr. Logan, and others attracted to the scene quickly extinguished the blaze so that the services of the fire boys were not required. The damage was slight.

Mrs. Campbell, who had just had her tonsils removed by Dr. Logan, was still under the influence of chloroform but, fortunately, did not have to be removed.

FINAL WARNING

The State Sanitary Engineer may be here at any time to survey the main line of sewerage to Richland Creek.

The time has expired for the extension and repair of the sewerage leading from the Court House and jail on the west side of the Public Square and west side of Main Street from Parrot's Garage to Richland Creek.

I want to warn the third and last time the cessation of these old sewerage.

After the Engineer makes his survey unless proper steps and progress are made within thirty six hours for completion of this work, warrants will be issued for the offenders for violating the Board of Health orders.

I will advise all interested to get busy.

G. H. ALBRIGHT M. D. COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER.

TO MANUFACTURE RIMS

In line with its policy of expansion, The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. has started construction of a rim and wheel plant at Akron, to have a capacity of 10,000 rims and wheels a day.

The new factory will be a one story brick and steel structure 250 feet wide and 660 feet long and will accommodate 500 workmen. Steel for the structure is arriving daily and a large part of the rim making machinery, for which contracts were let many months ago, has arrived on the ground. The new plant will be built on a portion of 200 acres located on the Baltimore & Ohio Railway, so that it will have ample railroad transportation facilities.

It is expected that the new rim factory will be completed about July 1st, at which time the present rim department of 600 daily capacity, will move into the new building.

The remainder of the 200 acres will be used for storage warehouses and for the erection of large cantonment buildings, similar to those used by the U. S. Government at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio for the training of soldiers. Twelve cantonments building will be used as sleeping quarters, each building to accommodate 80 men. Other buildings will be used as kitchen, dining rooms and recreation halls. It is expected that these cantonments, built to house 1,000 men, will be ready for occupancy by June 1st.

The new rim plant and cantonment will be of the latest type of construction and when completed will give Goodyear one of the most modern rim plants in the country.

TUESDAY CLUB

Mrs. James S. Miller was hostess to the Tuesday Club Tuesday afternoon, April 13th, at her home on Pine St. The fifteen members present answered roll call with items concerning the Salvation Army.

During the transaction of business several committees reported. The chairman of the committee to aid the Deaton-Smith Post of the American Legion continued the report from last meeting and stated that the $12 asked toward the Marne Monument had been given to the Post and it was also reported that the Club members had sold over $18.00 worth of tickets for the moving picture given for the benefit of the local Post of the American Legion.

As the leader of the day, Mrs. A. W. Hopper, was absent, Mrs. Sawyer A. Smith took her place. The topics given were:

"Organization of the Salvation Army and its Present Work," Mrs. Edward Faulkner.

"Some of the Training of the Salvation Army," Mrs. H. H. Owens.

"A Wounded Soldier's Gratitude to the S. A.," Mrs. Ben Herndon.

"Salvation Army Lassie," Reading by Mrs. G. M. Richards.

"Booth Memorial Hospital," Mrs. Fred Burman.

The Subject—The Salvation Army is one of the up-to-the-minute topics of the day. As several other organizations have been discussed in the Club, the program proved most interesting. The reading given by Mrs. Richards was greatly enjoyed. Several Salvation Army pictures and leaflets were shown among which were two large photographs of the Commander, Evangeline Booth, and pictures of different homes and hospitals. Each member was given a souvenir Salvation Army post card.

Each room was most attractive and the Club colors—pink and green were lavishly used in decoration and refreshments. In the reception rooms pink hyacinths, peach blossoms and pink carnations—the Club flower—were used. A cut glass flower basket filled with peach blossoms, the handle of which was tied with pink tulle was most attractive on the living room table. In the hall baskets containing pink blossoms were hung.

The dining room table had for its central attraction a large cut glass vase of ferns and pink carnations. Dainty hand painted booklets were used in the two contests. Mrs. Ben Herndon won a pink satin puff in the "Eye Test," and Mrs. H. H. Owens was the winner of a Riley Book of Poems in the "Advertisement Contest."

Miss Gertrude Black, Mrs. John G. Tye and Mrs. Chas Jones assisted the hostess in serving the delicious refreshments—brick ice cream, lady finger cakes and mints.

The invited guests were:—Mrs. James D. Black, Mrs. John A. Gray, Mrs. R. B. Cramer, Mrs. Sam Davidson, Mrs. H. T. Miller, Mrs. Read P. Black, Mrs. Ed Garrard, Mrs. Lulu B. Smith, Mrs. Chas Jones, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. Jordan Miller, Mrs. R. N. Cornett, Mrs. L. C. Miller, Mrs. Nan Hoskins, Mrs. Toulmin Garrard.

Your Banker says to himself, when a new account is established: "I will watch this account. Its owner is showing unmistakable signs of growing. He will be independent some of these days. The more I can help him the more he can help me."

As soon as your Banker sees you making good with YOURSELF, he is willing to back your efforts.

Give Self and Substance

GOD wants you! Your substance is secondary and will be given willingly when your heart belongs to God.

Have you discussed with your family how much you ought to give your Presbyterian church when the annual canvass for pledges is made April 25 to May 2?

Money cannot repay God's mercies. He wants service. But money will show to some extent the value you place on the work of the church in the community. It is to the church you look in time of sorrow and trouble. The church stands for the moral good of this town. You cannot do less than support it with a fair proportion of your income.

Presbyterian men, surprise your pastor. Volunteer as a Minute Man, boys' club leader, or as special caller. Take part in prayer meeting. Offer to teach a Sunday school class; and be a prepared teacher. Do your share gladly in the financial canvass. Get into the church and work. Don't forget the canvass in your family prayers.

LIBRARIANS JOIN FIGHT ON UNREST

American Library Association Inaugurates Nation-wide "Books for Everybody!" Movement.

WILL AID FOREIGN BORN.

Social Problems Can Be Solved
by Teaching American Ideals and Traditions.

The spirit of unrest that has been sweeping the country indicates that the foreign born, who have flocked to the United States from every corner of the globe have not been given the proper help and encouragement, in the opinion of the 4,000 librarians who make up the American Library Association and who are now enlisted in a
"Books for Everybody!" movement.
The effort is a concerted movement
to carry out the Enlarged Program which the association has adopted.

There are approximately fifteen millions of foreign born in the United States and of this number six millions
do not read or speak the English language. One phase of the Enlarged Program will be to bring the publisher
and translator together with the view of furnishing the proper books in sufficient numbers to carry the message of American ideals and traditions to this vast army of uninformed people. They have been largely dependent upon the foreign press for their written messages. Many men who live with their fingers on the pulse of current events are firmly convinced that a sound foundation in Americanism can be easily built among the foreign born if the proper literature is placed within their reach in a language they can understand.

No Drive to Be Held.

In order to carry out the Enlarged Program two million dollars will be required. This money will not be sought through the medium of a campaign or an intensive drive, but will be obtained through the individual efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries. The American Library Association will bend
every effort to bring about the nation-wide adoption of each of the cardinal points in the Program, which includes the extension of the county library system and the establishment of more industrial and business libraries.
It now has in operation book service
to the United States Merchant Marine, Coast Guard, Lighthouse Service and hospitals of the United States Public Health Service. The needs of the 75,000 blind persons in the United States will be cared for. At present the number of books available is woefully inadequate. This will be remedied and the joys of good literature will be brought into lives that are darkened by a veil which will never be raised by any other method.

Not all the work of Americanization
lies in the great centers of population.
Great sections of the country where industry is carried on by foreign workers do not know public library service.
There are important mining states
where less than a score of libraries exist. One mining state has but two public libraries.

MORE BOOKS FOR BLIND.

American Library Association Behind
Movement to Bring Good Literature to Those Who Walk
in the Dark.

There are between 75,000 and 80,000 blind people in the United States. The supply of books for their use is inadequate, there being less than ten titles existing in that print. The American Library Association has included in the program of its Enlarged Program the response to aid in printing and distributing additional volumes. It has already succeeded in inducing several well-known authors to fulfill the building of new pieces of their books. In inaugurating its "Books for Everybody!" movement a fund of $250,000 will be raised to carry out the provisions of the Program,
the money to be obtained not by a campaign or drive, but through the efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries.

OBITUARY

Early in the Spring morning
March 24, 1920, when the dark shades of night had gone by and the gayety of the Spring Birds of the forest was heard giving melodious voices of praise to the Great Jehova.

When God in his infinite wisdom who doeth all things well, sent the death angel to visit the home of Brother Morgan M. Sexton of Indian Creek and finding his beloved companion worn out with 78 years of life's toils and ready to step in the Old Ship of Zion and sail home on the other shore to rest in Paradise forever, with her precious son Philip Sexton and her precious daughter Eliza Helton (wife of John Helton) whom had gone on many years before and long waiting to welcome their beloved mother home
in Glory.

Sister Malinda Jane Sexton was born on March 10, 1842, and was a daughter of Rev. Green Berry Foley and sister Annie Foley. She leaves a heart broken husband and three mourning sons and two grieving daughters to lament the departure of a good and generous mother (namely) James R. Sexton, William Sexton, Spence R. Sexton Mrs.
Mary Helton, wife of James C. Helton and Rebecca Helton, wife of William Helton, and also a great many grandchildren. Sister Sexton was not only a kind mother and grandmother to her own descendancy but was a generous mother and grandmother to all of her neighbors and neighbors children. Most of whom that could be present were at her burial with eyes melting in tears paying their last respects to such a benevolent grandmother.

She also leaves three brothers and one sister (to wit) Spencer Foley Sr. and Mrs. Frances Shore, wife of Rev. Robert Shore, both of whom live in this vicinity and Parx Foley living in the far West and Rev. Phillip Foley of Garrard County, Ky now 80 who lived here in our midst all of his life up till about age 60 and carried such a remarkable record in truth and duty and indeed every way as a neighbor, citizen gentleman and as a Christian that he became one of, if not the most influential Baptist minister who ever lived in Knox or any adjoining County,
or any adjoining County.

Sister Sexton united herself with the Baptist Church in her early life,
kept her faith and lived a true Christian until death, and in her last days when pain was torturing
her body she like Job bore her suffering with patience. She always lent a helping hand to those in need around her to such an extent that her neighbors and neighbors'
children will reverence and cherish
her memory as that of a precious mother. She leaves not a single enemy to cast one ungentle word or one evil thought upon the grave of such a true heart mouldering thereunder.

To the broken hearted husband, weep not, for when a few years of sorrow shall have rolled its ample round, God will send another Ship Zion for you to step in and take sail
over there to meet her to live forever.

To the sons, daughters and grandchildren, weep not, her voice on earth will be heard no more she will visit you in dreams. She has gone forever from this vain world of woe and weeping to rest in peace forever. Francis M. Reese.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This
Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught, Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.—Mrs. Chas. Gaston,
of this place, writes: "I am a user
of Theodor's Black-Draught; in fact,
it was one of our family medicines.
Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Theodor's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit.

If your liver is not doing its duty,
you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result.
Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Theo-dor's, the original and genuine. B 79

BENEFITS OF SWEET CLOVER

Crop Makes Valuable Feed for Live Stock and Enriches Soil by Adding Humus.

The northwest experiment station at Crookston, Minn., strongly recommends the growing of sweet clover on a more extensive scale than heretofore. A recent statement issued at the station says:

"Sweet clover is not only one of the greatest soil enrichers, but is a valuable feed for live stock. It adds humus to the soil, because of the depth to which the roots penetrate and the ease with which they decay. Land that has been cropped with sweet clover which has been inoculated will grow a better stand of alfalfa without further inoculation."

"Sweet clover is commonly sown with a nurse crop. It is more easily plowed up than alfalfa. It is a good cash crop when grown for seed, and should be tried at least on a small scale by every farmer."

Perfection's Price In Tire Building

A tire-maker's first problem is to decide how much he can give for the money. This, and every other question in tire building, depends upon policies.

A super-tire, such as The Brunswick, can be made only by a concern which knows well and appreciates that there is nothing exclusive in the tire industry except high standards.

Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has held first place in every line it entered. Brunswick Tires, as more and more motorists come to know them, will certainly be awarded that coveted place held only by the superfine.

Motorists who buy one Brunswick usually adopt it for complete equipment. Yet this is not strange, since the first one so completely proves its superiority.

If the name of Brunswick certifies to you, as to most men, an extraordinary tire, at no higher price, would it not be good business to test one or two Brunswick Tires?

JAMES J. BLANTON ACQUITTED

The trial of James J. Blanton for the killing of his cousin resulted in an acquittal, the jury being out for some hours. Evidence showed that the dead man was the aggressor and that the accused acted in self defense. It is also denied that a dispute over whiskey was the cause of the trouble.

W. F. Costellow and Miss Lillian Albright left Tuesday night for Louisville and Indianapolis for a two or three weeks visit to relatives.

Do you feel weak and unequal to the work ahead of you? Do you still cough a little, or does your nose bother you? Are you pale? Is your blood thin and watery? Better put your body into shape. Build strong! Look out for "trip".

An old, reliable blood-maker and herbal tonic made from wild roots and barks, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This "nature remedy" comes in tablet or liquid form.

This Is What They Say:
Louisville, Ky.:—"Dr. Pierce's medicine have always proved very satisfactory to me. I have taken the 'Golden Medical Discovery' as a blood medicine and as a spring tonic and it was most beneficial. I have taken the 'Favorite Prescription' to build me up when run-down and in a nervous condition and I also took it when going thru middle life, and in both of the above instances it was a great help to me. I can recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines as being the very best."—MRS. M. A. TAYLOR, 120 N. 29th St.
Covington, Ky.:—"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is surely a grand medicine for people to take when afflicted with bronchial ailments or weak lungs. I used to be bothered a great deal in my younger years with shortness of breath, and even cold I had developed into bronchitis until I began to think it was a chronic ailment. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' gave me the most wonderful relief and eventually cured me. My general health improved from that time on. It is a pleasure indeed to recommend so reliable a remedy as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."—MRS. H. DAVIS, 309 Patton St.

Do you seem unable to do any work, to concentrate, to take any interest in things, during the wonderful Spring days? Do you feel just useless and "no account"?

WAR MOTHERS' MEMORIAL BRIDGE TO SPAN KENTUCKY RIVER AT STATE CAPITAL

From a Water Color Rendering By Leo L. Oberwarth, A. I. A., Architect, Frankfort, Ky.

The War Mothers of Kentucky, an organization of the women who gave their sons upon call of their government that the world might be free, have determined that the patriotism and heroism of all Kentuckians in the late world war shall be memorialized in a most lasting way by the building of a memorial bridge across the Kentucky River at the State Capital. This splendid monument, shown above, was given the strongest endorsement by the General Assembly of Kentucky at the session just closed, with the suggestion that it be made a part of the great public highway scheme laid out by the Assembly.

The organization of War Mothers, which is made up of county units representing each of the one hundred and twenty counties of Kentucky, determined to unite in a single memorial, built by the combined efforts of the county organizations rather than scattered monuments. They decided that the monument be an emblem representing the entire Commonwealth; that it should be a practical, useful memorial and that it should be located where it would be a spectacle to the greatest number of people of the Commonwealth. A glance at the picture shows the very practical side of these suggestions. The bridge will cross the Kentucky River at the head of Main street in the city of Frankfort, its southern end resting on Capitol avenue, a street one hundred and fifty feet in width and ending with the new State Capitol and Governor's Mansion. Architecturally the bridge is designed strictly in harmony with the Capitol. It can be seen from both the steam and electric car lines coming into and leaving the Capital city as well as autoist passing along the Highland Trail. It is proposed that each county of Kentucky be represented in the memorial by the placing of a bronze tablet for each along the main avenue of the structure, the tablet to contain the names of the soldiers and sailors the county furnished to the National Government in the war. The entrance arches of the structure will contain public comfort stations, rest rooms and drinking fountains, there will be projecting bays, with seats, on either side of the walk ways of the bridge. Electric light standards ending in flag poles for decorative purposes will be placed at the bays. The approaches to the bridge North and South will be embellished with permanent landscape plantings.

That the Capital City of Kentucky is the proper setting for such a splendid memorial is generally accepted by the people who have interested themselves in the project. People from every section of Kentucky are in Frankfort daily. That the General Assembly held to this idea is shown by the following resolution of endorsement which was adopted unanimously in both branches of that body:

Whereas, The organization known as the War Mothers of the State of Kentucky, made up of the patriotic women who gave their sons to the cause of world freedom and sent them across the seas to battle for that cause, while they, remaining at home, gave their energy and time to every war effort fostered by the National Government, is now engaged in promoting a State memorial to the men who took up arms at their country's call; and,

Whereas, This organization has determined that such memorial should not be in the form of a monument, such as has been customary in the past, but a memorial that will ever be of use and benefit to the people of Kentucky while adorning the approach to Kentucky's Capitol and contributing to making of the Capital City of Kentucky a city all Kentuckians will be proud of; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of Kentucky, that we do most heartily endorse this worthy movement upon the part of the War Mothers of the State and sincerely hope that their vision of a great Memorial Bridge across the Kentucky River at the Capital City will shortly be realized.

And be it further resolved, we view with approval the plan of having each of the one hundred and twenty counties of Kentucky represented in this splendid Memorial Bridge the placing thereon of a bronze tablet containing the names of the soldiers who served from the various counties, and with special reference to those who gave up their lives.

We would urge upon the present State officials that they co-operate in every way with the War Mothers in this project, particularly the State Road Department, which might make of this structure part of the great highway scheme now being worked out in Kentucky, and would recommend to the next General Assembly that they assist in making such memorial possible.

CONDENSED CLASSICS

CAPTAINS OF RAGEOUS

By RUDYARD KIPLING

Condensation by James E. Connolly

Rudyard Kipling was born Dec. 30, 1865, in Bombay, where his father, John Lockwood Kipling, artist and author, was professor in the British School of Art. He was educated at the United Service College, Westward Ho, North Devon, scene of the Irish Stalky novel.

At seventeen he was in India once more, a journalist. Before he was twenty-four he had completed "Plain Tales From the Hills" and six more of his best stories, which established his fame throughout the world.

At seventeen he was in India once more, a journalist. Before he was twenty-four he had completed "Plain Tales From the Hills" and six more of his best stories, which established his fame throughout the world.

With the "Jungle Book" Kipling enthralled a new audience. These, and the incomparable "Just So Stories," written to his son who was killed in the war, endeared him to the hearts of children the world over.

HARVEY CHEYNE'S father was immersed in amassing money; his mother was busy with her nerves; and so we have Harvey, at fifteen years, the insufferable type that most grown males want to have a brick at on sight.

He was a passenger on this ocean liner, and she was crossing the Grand Banks in a fog. He came into the smoking room saying: "You can hear the fish boats squawking all around us. Wouldn't it be great if we ran one down?"

He asked for a cigarette. Somebody with a diabolical sense of humor passed him a thick, oily cigar. Harvey lit it up and went on deck. He began to feel queer, but he had bragged of never being seasick; so now he went aft to the turtle deck, and he was still there, wrestling with the cigar and not caring much what happened, when a long gray sea swung out of the fog and took him overboard.

Harvey was next aware of being on a pile of fish with a broad-backed man in a blue jersey, who said: "You in dory with me. Manuel my name."

Later he was hoisted aboard of a schooner and lowered into her heaving fo'c'sle where men in oilskins gave him a hot drink and put him to sleep in a bunk. When he awoke a boy whose name was Dan asked him smilingly if he was feeling better. The schooner was the "We're Here" of Gloucester, and the boy's father, Disko Troop, was her skipper.

Harvey went up on deck to see Disko; and demanded that he be taken back to New York, where, as he told Disko condescendingly his father would pay them very well for their trouble; he added many other items to what his father could and would do. Disko, as it happened, was an old-fashioned type of banks fisherman, wise in the ways of fish but knowing little of the great world. He decided that this boy with his talk of his father's immense wealth must be crazy; with an idea of restoring the poor boy to sanity he offered him the berth of second boy on the "We're Here" at $10.50 per month.

Harvey had a fit of sullenness, but his sullenness worried nobody; he went to work. The dories were returning to the vessel with their catches of fish; so for the first work of his life Harvey was set to helping Dan hoist in the dories, to swabbing the gurry from their insides and then to nailing them on the deck. By the time he had finished doing that and eating his supper it was nighttime, and Manuel, Penn, Long Jack, Old Salters, Tom Platt—all hands were standing by to dress fish.

Manuel and Penn stood deep among the fish, flourishing sharp knives. "Hi!" shouted Manuel, with one finger under the gill of a cod, the other in an eye. The blade glimmered, there was a sound of tearing, the fish—slit from throat to tail—dropped at Long Jack's feet. "Hi!" cried Long Jack, and with a scoop of a mitted hand, dropped the cod's liver into a basket; another wrench and scoop sent head and offal flying. The gutted fish slid across to Old Salters, who snorted fiercely, ripped out the backbone and splashed the headless, gutless fish into a tub of water.

Harvey pitched the washed fish down into the hold, from whence came trampings and rumblings as Tom Platt and Disko moved among the salt bins. The rasping sound of rough salt rubbed on rough flesh from below made a steady undertone to the click-click of the knives in the pens, the wrench and scoop of torn heads, the flap of ripped-open fish falling into the tub on deck.

At the end of an hour Harvey wanted terribly to rest, but also for the first time in his life he was one of a working gang of men; and so, beginning to take pride in the thought, he held on grimly. Not till the last fish was stowed below did a man rest. But when that moment came! Disko and Old Salters rolled toward their cabin bunks, Manuel and Long Jack went forward. Tom Platt waited only long enough to slide home the hatch. All hands were below and asleep, except the two boys; they had to stand watch; so by and by the moon looked down on one slim boy in knickerbockers, which was Harvey, staggering around the cluttered deck; while behind him, waving a knotted rope, walked another boy, which was Dan, yawning and nodding between nap; he dealt the first boy to keep him awake.

The "We're Here" was on a salt-fishing trip which meant four months away from home; so there was time for Harvey to learn many strange new things if he cared to. After a time, as the pride in honest work well done began to grip him, he cared. He learned to fish from a dory; to make his way in safety around a heaving vessel's deck; to know what each rope and sail aboard a vessel was for. Disko allowed him, when the wind was light, to steer the vessel from one berth to another, and wonderful was Harvey's sense of power when he first felt the vessel answer to his touch of the wheel. Almost did he come to understand, as a fisherman understands, the never-absent dangers of the banks, the eternal fogs, the tides, the gales, the wicked seas; and learned, too, fishermen's opinion of the officers of the great steamers who, after cutting a vessel down, raise high hands to heaven and swear with unanimity that the careless fisherman had never—absolutely never—shown so much as a single light.

He saw one day a foul, dragged, unempt vessel heaving up past the "We're Here," for all the world like a blowzy, frouzy, bad old woman sneering at a decent girl, saw her sail off and into a batch of watery sunshine and—go under, taking all hands with her! He saw, while his hair stood on end, a whiteness moving in the whiteness of the fog with a breath like the breath of a grave; and then he heard a roaring, plunging and spouting; that was his first iceberg. He saw the surf break over Virgin Rocks; and the fish strike in so thick on a shoal that scores of dories stood riding gunnel to gunnel while their crews battled for the catch. He saw a gale break so sudden and fierce that everywhere on the sea were men in dories cutting riding lines and racing for their vessels, but some never making their vessels.

So he passed four busy, wonderful months, growing in body, mind and soul with every hour that passed; and then came the great day when they left the banks for home. Toll hardship and danger were now mostly behind them; there was left little to do but stand watch and study the folding and packing away of the morning mists, the hurry of winds across the open spaces, the glare and blaze of the high sun; to harken to the grinding of the booms against the masts, the creaking of the sheets against the bits, the sail filling to the roaring winds.

Now about the time the "We're Here," a hundred quintals of fish in her hold, was laying her course for Gloucester, Harvey's father was beginning to wonder in his mahogany offices in Los Angeles if it wasn't a better game to drop the ceaseless struggle for more power and wealth. What was the use of it all—with no son to hand it to? He was still wondering when one day an excited secretary brought him a telegram.

It was from Harvey, safe in Gloucester. Mr. Cheyne laid his face down on his desk, breathed heavily for awhile; and then, heaving orders right and left, started that run of which railroad men talked for many a day. Three days and a half it was from coast to coast, with railroad specialists along the way dividing huge bonuses; for it was the great Harvey Cheyne who was racing East to see his rescued boy, and the boy's mother was with him.

Not without fear did he meet that boy. He had a memory of a pasty-faced, bad-mannered lad. What he met was a boy with toughened figure and a keen, clear eye.

Railroads, lumber, mines—such things did not interest young Harvey. What his heart yearned for was to some day manage his father's newly purchased sailing ships on the Pacific Coast. The ships he got when he was ripe for them; and for Dan, son of Disko Troop—seeing that he could not offer money—he got a berth as mate of one of them, with the promise that some day he would go master of the best he could build.

"Great ships these of my father's? Oh, yes," says Harvey. "But back in Gloucester are the able little vessels. The 'We're Here,' she's one. I owe a heap to her—to her and her crew."

RAISING WINTER EGG LAYERS

Chicks Should Be Hatched in March If They Are of General Purpose Breeds—Give Best Care.

"Pullets intended to produce winter eggs should be hatched in March if they are of the general purpose breeds," says Prof. L. H. Schwartz of Purdue university. "Leghorns mature a little sooner and need not be hatched until April. The pullets should be given every advantage during spring, summer and fall, receiving the best of feed and water and should always have access to shade. Adequate ventilation in the house in which they are kept is essential, and the pullets should not be overcrowded. Each one requires at least four square feet of floor space."

GUINEAS MAKE GOOD EATING

Unlike Hens They Do Not Lay During Entire Year—Gamy Taste of Flesh Relished by Some.

While guineas do not lay all the year around as the chicken hen does, they are great layers in their season (which is spring) and the eggs, though smaller than those of the chicken hen, are very good for food. The eggs sell in the market, but generally below the price of hen's eggs.

Guinea meat on the table is perhaps not so desirable as that of the chicken, being dark and inclined to be tough, but when cooked it is by no means an unwholesome dish. Indeed, it has a gamy flavor which appeals to many appetites.

To Improve Idle Time.

Wherever there are as many as 500 reasonably stationary soldiers, sailors and marines at the base camps or the ports of shipment or with the army of occupation, there will be educational courses supervised by the Y. M. C. A. For those who are to be moved in a few weeks there will be short courses, but there will be something to interest every one.

"Y" Operates Hotels.

London.—Half a dozen London hotels, including the Palace, Cosmo and Grafton, have been taken over by the American Y. M. C. A. and are now in full operation. This addition to the war plant of the "Y" is required by the even more comprehensive period of occupation program which has been set up in the United Kingdom by the Y. M. C. A.

Want American Tables.

An American pool table is a grateful oasis to the American soldiers impatiently awaiting orders to leave for home, for somehow or other they do not take kindly to the model of pool or billiard table which is extant in Merrie England. Hence there never is any rest to the billiard tables in the Y. M. C. A. but in the British Isles.

Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "togy," headachy, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or stubbornly constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you feeling your best. Get a 25¢ Box

Some of the fire boys—our volunteer fire fighters—complain that the hose is often rolled on the cart with the nozzle end out and when they reach a hydrant the whole thing has to be unwound to get to the hydrant attachment. DIFFERENT DISEASES OF SWEET POTATOES

Bulletin Just Issued Explains Fully Various Ailments.

Suggestions Are Made on Control or Prevention of Ills—Illustrations of Much Assistance in Identifying Troubles.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Sweet Potato Diseases," a 26-page Farmers' Bulletin—No. 1050—just issued by the bureau of plant industry, and now available for distribution, explains in nontechnical language the character of various field diseases and storage rot which do much to menace the profitability of sweet potato crops of this country. Accompanying each description of a disease are suggestions as to how the disease may be controlled or prevented. The comments on the manner in which the various diseases are spread and the best methods of prevention are also of timely value. Supplementing the text are a number of illustrations which should be of assistance to the grower in identifying various field diseases and storage troubles. Stem rot, black rot, foot rot, Texas rot, scurf, leaf blight, and white rust are among the field diseases treated, while the list of storage rot diseases includes soft rot, ring rot, Java black rot, and charcoal rot.

The new bulletin is a revision of Farmers' Bulletin No. 714. It can be had by addressing the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

BEES LOST SEEKING POLLEN

Minnesota Expert Recommends Insects Be Not Liberated Until Food Supply Is Plentiful.

Bees sometimes get lost, says L. V. France, of the beekeeping division at University farm, St. Paul. They do so on being turned out in the spring if they have to go far in search of pollen. Therefore, Mr. France urges that bees should not be given their freedom in April until there is plenty of pollen available on willows and soft maples close by.

If there is no pollen available outside the hives in April, or the weather is too bad for the bees to go out, the keeper should provide combs of pollen.

Among other things suggested by Mr. France for bees just given their freedom are these:

Clean water in a warm nook in the bee yard.

Food enough to last until May 20 in the form of sugar, syrup, or combs of honey saved from the previous year.

Protection against cold weather until May 15 or 20 by wrapping each hive with several thicknesses of heavy wrapping or building paper.

Prevention of robbing by reducing size of entrances.

DISPOSITION OF DEAD FOWLS

Carcasses of Birds Should Not Be Allowed to Lie Around and Decay—Burning Is Best.

Never allow the carcasses of birds that have died to lie around and decay. Either bury them good and deep or, better still, burn them. If you have no furnace or stove in which you want to burn them, saturate them good with kerosene and set fire to them. If you leave them uncovered and allow them to decay, your whole flock is liable to be stricken with limberneck.

DEEP SOIL HOLDS MOISTURE

Main Agent by Which Roots of Plants Get Their Food—Aeration Also Is Essential.

A deep soil is conducive to maximum crop production. It will hold more moisture, and when this is exhausted will draw the moisture from the subsoil. Since moisture is the main agent by which the roots of plants get their food it is necessary that the soil be deep to get the best results. By plowing a deep soil it will be pulverized and aerated, which is also necessary for a good root growth.

WAS HARDLY ABLE TO STAY AT WORK

Richmond Man Says He Should Have Been in Bed—Tanlac Soon Restored Him.

"Yes, sir, I am so thankful for what Tanlac has done for me I wish to tell everybody about it," recently said J. S. Taylor, 1410 Ashland St., Richmond, Va., a machinist who works for the Virginia Railway and Power Company.

"For the past year," Mr. Taylor continued, "I suffered indigestion so bad I could not eat anything without being in misery afterwards. I had no appetite and the little I did manage to eat soured and gas would form on my stomach, causing terrible gripping pains and such fearful spells of palpitation I became alarmed for fear I had heart trouble. I could hardly breathe at times and when these spells came on me I just had to stop and sit down. I often became nauseated and would get so weak I could hardly stand up. I also had a severe pain in my back all the time and it was agony for me to stoop over and straighten up again, and at times my head would swim so I had to sit down to keep from falling. I had rheumatism in both feet so bad that in the morning I could hardly bear to put my feet on the floor, and they pained me so I could scarcely walk. I was so badly run down I felt miserable all the time and many a day I had to drag one foot after the other when I ought to have been in bed.

"I saw Tanlac recommended by several people I knew to be reliable so I decided to try it. Before I had finished my first bottle my improvement was so great a friend asked me what I was doing to look so well, and when I said it was Tanlac he said, 'Well, you had better stick to Tanlac, for you certainly look like a different person.' I have a fine appetite and I am rid of the swimming in the head. The pain in my back and the rheumatism have all gone and I never have a trouble of any kind. I feel stronger than I have in a long while and can work all day long without even sitting down to rest. If any one wants to know any more about the benefits I have received from Tanlac let them write me and I will gladly answer any question they may ask."

"Tanlac is sold in Barbourville at Cut Rate Drug Store." (Adv.)

SPRING IS HERE BUT ARE YOU READY TO PARTAKE OF PLEASURES OFFERED?

Trutona Is Daily Winning Unstinted Praise From Hundreds For Overcoming Tired, Draggy 'Ne, Account' Feeling So Prevalent During The Present Season

Does the coming of Spring with all its pleasures mean anything to YOU?

"That all depends," may be your answer and admittedly "it all depends"—in all depends upon whether or not your system has withstood the exacting siege of winter that leaves in its wake so many many thousands of people with completely run-down systems.

In fact, conspicuously in minority are those who have completely avoided the ravages of winter maladies. True, there are thousands who were successful in warding off attacks of influenza and still more thousands who escaped pneumonia, but WHO IS THERE THAT DID NOT EXPERIENCE AT LEAST ONE HEAVY WINTER COLD DURING THE PAST SEASON? Remember, only second in severity to pneumonia and influenza, is heavy, winter cough or cold.

Like pneumonia and influenza, winter coughs and colds tend to weaken and materially affect almost every vital organ of the body. People who have suffered a heavy winter cough, yet feel that their systems have escaped the strain of winter weather, are sadly mistaken. If they could but grasp the fact, they would not wonder why they feel so tired, sluggish, lifeless and generally out-of-fix, when they know they should be full of "pep" and vitality, in perfect harmony with the invigorating breezes and sunshiny weather of Spring.

Thousands of people are now taking Trutona, the Perfect Tonic, to overcome this weakened physical condition so prevalent at the close of winter and hundreds of public statements now being made daily, prove that none has been disappointed in Trutona as a reconstructive agency, system purifier and body invigorant.

Trutona does its work quickly. It speedily attacks the impurities in the blood that might, if left alone brings serious results. It rebuilds broken down tissues, strengthens nerve centers and produces proper digestion and assimilation of food, at the same time throwing off any decayed matter that may have accumulated. In short, Trutona thoroughly and efficiently tones up every organ of the body and gives to your physical being the vigor and vitality, which alone can place within your reach the many pleasures which Spring offers to the healthy man and woman.

Trutona is sold in Barbourville at Costellow Drug Co.
